Music Newsletter

It was a perfect week to end the term with in the music department! We've had lots of fun with our classes this week, and alongside our usual routine have been enjoying cakes from the bake sale and watching the Sorcerer's Apprentice from Disney Fantasia! We then discussed the music

There's a lot to look forward to this term, with two new music clubs beginning the second week back: Recorder & Glockenspiel club for years 1-3, and Band Club for years 4-6. We hope you all have a lovely Easter - let the music resume in April

Football Report from Mr Neve Dunn: Heber v Bellenden Primary – March 30th

This week Heber were playing at home against local rivals Bellenden primary – the very good team with possibly the loudest coach in the league. After many hours of intense strategic debate and analysis it had been decided that the girls team would once again employ the pink ballerina tutu tactic to unsettle the opposition. There was an attempt to employ a second (bright blue) tutu but it kept falling and was considered a health hazard. The opposition were big and strong but not as nippy as the Heber girls. Hester, who was wearing the tutu, dashed around like a dazzling pink flamingo (sorry, bad simile) and the girls from Bellenden looked disconcerted. Heber had all the chances and maintained constant pressure, the girls went on to win the match 2-0 after goals from Iris and Mya. It was generally accepted that the 'pink tutu tactic' had been a success.

The following boys match had no pink tutus but was equally entertaining. The opposition coaching advice was ear splittingly loud. The sounds of a stressed coach echoed around our small playground. This created quite a tense atmosphere and it was not long before Bellenden were winning 1-0. They increased the lead to 2-0 mid way through the second half. Losing 2-0 to the league leaders could have caused the boys' heads to drop. It did not and team fought even harder. With minutes left Heber scored and the tide seemed to change. All the pressure was on the opposition goal, shots were flying all around their goal. The post was hit several times, but it was not to be. The visitors won 2-1. The boys were not too disheartened, their performance had been excellent. The boys will have a high level tactical meeting to come up with a cunning plan to defeat the next opponents. Please send any tactical ideas to the school office.

The annual Heber fun run is taking place this Friday in Dulwich Park. In a change to the usual format, all children will be running together in their classes. Please support this event by sponsoring your child and please consider sponsoring our marathon runner, Sam Moore (dad of Scarlett yr 3 and Inigo yr 1), who is running on behalf of Heber School. See below for his Just Giving page where you can read his story and sponsor him. All the money he raises will go towards the P&F's goal of improving the school's playgrounds. Watch out for children rattling buckets in the playground this week and at the event itself.
